Mr.N.Venkataramana, Managing Partner, Amulya Leather Impex delivered details about Intellectual Property in Trade and Development.

The protection and enforcement of intellectual property rights (IPR) have become an important component of current trade policy. For instance, the U.S.-China trade war that began in 2018 was influenced by American accusations of misappropriation of technology by China. And negotiations of the U.S.-Mexico-Canada Agreement, which replaced NAFTA in 2020, introduced a high-standard intellectual property chapter requiring strong and effective protection and enforcement of IPR.
