ABOUT DEPARTMENT

Management education is an academic discipline by which students are taught to be business leaders, managers and university professors in business education, Management education focuses on training future business leaders. Through theory and knowledge of management practice, students learn how to develop the leadership capabilities . Part of the curriculum focuses on assessing and evaluating teams in order to examine the role as a manager. People who specialize in management education must be able to adapt to changes in laws, regulations and trends.

ABOUT FDP PROGRAM

The programme highlighted how regular meditation can help in managing various kinds of stresses. The meditation technique is called 'Sahaj Marg Heartfulness Meditation' which is followed by many all over the world. In this practice, the trainer initiates the trainees into the practice through a special holistic process called 'transmission'. The trainees have to take transmission for three consecutive days to get initiated into the practice.
