- Virtual interviews via video calls have become the new norm, presenting both challenges and opportunities for job seekers. In this Session, we will discuss key tips for succeeding in virtual interviews.
- Test your technology: Before the interview, ensure that your internet connection is stable, your camera and microphone are working properly, and your chosen video conferencing platform is set up correctly.
- Choose a suitable location: Find a quiet and well-lit space for your interview to minimize distractions and ensure that you are easily visible to the interviewer.
- Dress appropriately: Treat a virtual interview the same way you would an in-person interview by dressing professionally.
- Practice good body language: Maintain eye contact by looking directly at the camera rather than the screen, sit up straight, and use gestures sparingly to convey confidence and engagement.
- Prepare your responses: Research the company and position beforehand and anticipate common interview questions.

- The event "Practicing Interview Scenarios with Feedback" was organized to help participants improve their interview skills and boost their confidence for future job opportunities.
- Activities: The session started with a brief introduction to the importance of interview skills and how it can impact career growth.
- Participants were then divided into small groups to practice various interview scenarios. Each group was given a set of common interview questions and were asked to take turns role-playing as interviewers and candidates.
- Feedback Session: After the interview scenarios were completed, a feedback session was conducted where each participant received constructive feedback from their peers and the facilitators.
- The feedback focused on areas such as communication skills, body language, and the ability to articulate responses effectively.
- Virtual interviews present unique challenges, but with proper preparation and attention to detail, job seekers can demonstrate their qualifications effectively and stand out to potential employers.
